COUNCIL BLUFFS.

OFFICE NO. 12 PEARL STREET.

NIGHT EDITOR,
MINOR MENTION.

New spring goods at Reiter's.
New York Plumbing company.
Additional Council Bluffs on Fifth page.
Mrs. E. C. Whittlesley and Mrs. L. D. Pile entertained a small company at the home of the former, on Franklin street, Wednesday evening.

Work has been begun on the foundation of Cole Bros' new brick at the corner of Broadway and Seventh street, and is going on at a lively rate.

A new floor was laid yesterday at Roscoe, No. 3, hose house. The work was completed, and the skilled mechanics who reside there are now in search of a job.

A ball game was played at the Denison club on the lawn, and will be played within the next ten days. The date is not announced as yet, but due notice will be given of the event.

Holst & Spelman, of the Kiel hotel, have decided to build a double house on Fourth street, just east of the hotel. It will be two stories and basement, and cost about $7,000.

More settlers are needed for Haystack park.
It is suggested that the new ones be divided by arms so as to prevent their use by looters as coaches on which to stretch themselves and sleep.

The chairman of the hotel committee requests all members of the present as well as of the old committee to meet him this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the board of trade rooms.
Some prompt action is necessary to make the hotel matter a success.

The large campaign flag hung across Broadway by the republicans, ought to be a little further west, so that it could be seen from both directions on Broadway. As it is it is all right for the upper part of that street, but the lower part needs a little enlightenment as to the Harrison Norton entrance.

Mr. Frank James, of Blanchard, Ia., has bought out the dry goods stock of Messrs.
Hutchinson & Greenfield's, at the corner of Broadway and North Second street. Mr.
James has had much experience in the dry goods business, and will doubtless receive a liberal patronage.

Next Sunday morning Messrs. O. D. Kiplinger and D. F. Eichler, of this city, will open the most cigar store in Omaha, at 1219 Farnham street, in the First National bank building. Both are capable gentlemen and keen business men, and will no doubt succeed in their new enterprise.

Captain D. F. Eichler has become associated with Oscar Kiplinger in the establishing of a retail cigar store in Omaha. They propose making it first class in every respect. They will sell their residences on this side of the river, and Mr. Kiplinger will keep his interest in the business of Moore & Kiplinger.

The Tenth avenue Union Pacific freight depot is so nearly completed that orders have been received to the effect that on and after next Monday it will be open for business, and all of the local freight business of the company will subsequently be transacted there. The Broadway depot will be used for suburban train service only.

The contract for doing the grading and other improvement work on the Manawa road was let yesterday to Owen Bros., and work will be commenced this morning. It consists mainly in widening the road across the slough and fixing up the approaches.
The contractors claim to be able to complete it in about a week, and Mr. Kiplinger guarantees that this popular thoroughfare will be put in strictly first-class condition.

The contractor making short work of removing the old school building on the Washington avenue site. The work will be completed to-day, and a force of men will begin on the foundation for the new building. The number of the bricks in the old building are claimed to be just as good as new, and will be entered into the construction of the new building. The excavation of the rear part of the lot is nearly completed. The work is already well under way and is being pushed with a view that speaks well for the completion of the building by the 1st of January, 1889.

Celebrate the Fourth.
For the coming Fourth of July the Wabash Western railway will sell tickets between all stations, including St. Louis, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Council Bluffs and Des Moines, at one fare for the round trip. These tickets will be on sale July 3 and 4, not good returning until after July 5. For further particulars apply to J. C. Mitchell, at corner of Main and Pearl streets, or to the nearest ticket agent of the Wabash Western.

Election of Officers.
At the last meeting of Northwestern Legion of Honor the permanent organization was effected and the following officers were elected: Commander, P. L. Hayden; past commander, P. A. Rich; vice commander, M.
Kehrer; orator, C. T. Jackson; secretary, A.
B. Parkinson; collector, C. C. Lincoln; treasurer, Frank Harker; guide, Charles Palmer; chaplain, Dr. Van Ness; warden, J. C. Caster; trustees, Messrs. Cleaver, Zoller and Weatherston. The membership now numbers nearly one hundred persons and is already one of the most flourishing in the city.

E. H. Sheafe loans money on chattel security of every description. Private consulting rooms. All business strictly confidential. Office 500 Broadway, corner Main street, up-stairs.

Say, Look Here!!
If you want to get a correct and an intelligent idea of just what a Chautauqua assembly is, then go with us on the excursion to Crete, Neb., leaving Broadway U. P. depot at 9:45 a. m., Friday, June 29. We will have through cars and tickets. The fare from Council Bluffs to Crete and return, including admission to the grounds, will be $2.75, good for ten days, returning on any day and train the holder may choose.
Tickets can be had, commencing Wednesday morning, at Harkness Bros'.
Union Ticket office, corner Broadway Pearl sts.; Pacific house, Wabash Ticket office, corner Broadway and Main sts.; Camp & Ellis, Opera House Depot store; U. P. Broadway depot, Onier & Pusey's bank, Bushnell's book store, and J. B. Atkins' drug store. Let the people of this city turn out as becomes the occasion and go and hear and see, returning thoroughly infused with "Chautauqua" ideas. Let not your neighbor rest, but let us all have personally become informed of the great advantages that are secured by having an institution of this character in our midst. The crowd attending this assembly is so great that cars could not be procured for Thursday or Saturday, but for Friday only.

J. M. OVERSLER,
Recording Secretary C. B. C. A.

S. B. Wadsworth & Co. loan money.

The Chautauqua excursion to Crete will give you the advantage of hearing Talmage next Saturday evening and Sunday.

A SUDDEN INSANE IMPULSE.

It Was Probably the Cause of Mrs.
Marshall's Suicide.

JUDGE DEEMER ON THE BENCH

A Saloonist Set Free—A Glance at the Gas Charter—Remembering an Old Fireman—The Legion of Honor.

A Startling Suicide.

A hurried call, a rush of horses and men, and the city patrol wagon with its load of uniformed policemen and reporters dashed rapidly to the corner of Ninth street and Fourth avenue, where, in a little room at the head of the stairs in the residence of Mr.
George Marshall, lay the maimed form of the wife and mother with the life fluid oozing slowly from a hole in her left breast. On the floor beside her was a Forchard & Wad-sworth's .38-caliber revolver, with one empty chamber under the hammer. Gathered in little groups through the house and around the door were the neighbors, hastily summoned by the shrieks of the victim, and a terrible and sad scene was presented by the blood that had fallen on the floor from the wound in the breast, and the sudden and terrible act that had removed from their midst without a moment's warning an old acquaintance and friend. Upon a sofa in the parlor, completely prostrated by the blow that had fallen on him with such crushing weight, was the husband of the dead woman, who, with a look of the most agonizing and fearful expression, was begging that his own life might be terminated by the same weapon that had robbed him of her.
He had been his loving helpmeet for over thirty years.

The coroner shortly arrived upon the scene and after making a preliminary examination of the body, he ordered the removal of the body to the morgue. The friends of the deceased woman, who were present, the following facts were learned in regard to the circumstances attending the sad affair:

About 8 o'clock yesterday morning Mr.
Marshall left the house to go to work. He took with him a box containing a number of pictures for shipment to Denver, where a relative, Mrs. Ray Wells, resides and where the aged couple were preparing to remove.
At quarter past eight the neighbors heard the report of a pistol, but were unable to locate it, and no notice was taken of it.

Shortly after half past nine, Mr. Marshall returned, and after making a preliminary examination of the body, he ordered the removal of
deceased woman, who were present, the fol-
circumstances attending the sad affair:

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that the deceased came to her death from a gunshot wound inflicted by her own hand while suffering from temporary mental aberration.
It is impossible to say what motive impelled her to seek her own life, but her delirium had not been unusually unpleasant of late, and she seemed to anticipate much enjoyment in the proposed change, as she would then be near her daughter. She had never become reconciled to the loss of her sister, Mrs. Willard, formerly assistant manager of the Omaha Daily Bee, who died about four years ago of cancer. A few days ago the deceased told a neighbor that she thought she was afflicted in the same way, and it may be that the dread of the terrible sufferings induced by cancer preyed upon her mind until she decided to forego life.

The deceased, formerly Miss Louise Burroughs, was born in 1838, and was married in 1857. The marriage was a happy one.
The couple had but one child, a son, who was married about a year ago to Mr.
Ray Wells, an employee of the Wells-Fargo express company, and with him removed to Denver. Previous to her marriage she was employed in the office of the county recorder for about two years.

The bereaved husband has been a resident of this city for thirty-three years, and has a wide circle of acquaintances. He was formerly engaged in freighting, and was superintendent of the Western stage coach company before the days of railroad accommodation in this city. Later he was superintendent of the city street car service, which position he held until a year ago. The family was in comfortable circumstances and were endeavoring to sell their residence property preparatory to moving away. The case is a particularly sad one, and the bereaved relatives have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral, which will not take place until after the arrival of the daughter, who has been notified by telegraph.
She left here only a few weeks ago, after a visit with her parents, and was expecting her mother to join her in Denver next Monday. Arrangements as to the funeral will be made later.

The Gas Charter.
The gas charter of the present company expires, according to the body of the matter, in twenty years from the passage of the ordinance, so that the expiration is February 2, 1889. The compilers of the city ordinances, by some strange mistake, have made the annotation on the margin, "Exclusive franchise twenty-five years. In the old ordinance book the marginal note also states the same. It is supposed that the mistake is on the marginal note, but should it prove to be in the body of the ordinance, there will go up such a howl as was never before heard in Council Bluffs. This city can stand paying $3.50 a thousand for gas until the 23 day of next February. To think of five more years of this monopoly would drive the people to dipping candles.

The expiration of this charter does not do away, however, with the rights of the present gas company. There is in the old charter a very short little paragraph, providing that "at the expiration of the privileges herein granted the company shall have equal rights and privileges with any other gas company that may be formed in the city of Council Bluffs."

As the time draws near for release from the monopoly which has so enriched itself at the expense of this city, it seems that something should be done toward securing cheaper and better light. One clause in the present charter has been ignored completely. It provides, "If any discovery or improvement be made in the preparation of gas from coal or other materials, either fluid or solid, by which the cost of making the same will be materially diminished, and the same shall be adopted in other principal cities of the country, then in such case the company aforesaid shall introduce such discovery or improvement in the city of Council Bluffs, and make such deduction in the price of gas as shall be effected by such discovery or improvement." Has there been no such discovery or improvement in twenty years? If so, has the requirement of the charter been complied with?

If not, then why has the following condition not been enforced: "If the company shall violate or fail to comply with any of these provisions, they shall forfeit all the privileges herein granted and the common council reserve the right in such case to repeal the same."

Is Council Bluffs to continue paying three times as much for gas as other cities?

An Educational Scheme.
Professors Paulson and Ostrom, pro-prieters of the Western Iowa college, offer to build and maintain such a school provided the people will take scholarships enough to give the building a good start—location near business center of the city.

Scholarships will be sold for the normal department good for three years tuition, to be used within ten years; also scholarships for the business department good for one year, to be used within ten years.

The Valparaiso school, above referred to, leaves clean $300,000 in cash expended in that city every year. A similar institution will bring a half million into Council Bluffs. The scheme of Prof. Paulson and Ostrom is perfectly feasible, and it is to be hoped the method and system proposed by them will be carefully studied and the proper encouragement given.

The members and friends of the Unique club will celebrate the Fourth of July by a picnic and boating excursion.

A Saloonist Set Free.
Yesterday H. Heitman, one of the unfortunate who monkeyed with the prohibition business, breathed freer air again. He was under sentence of six months' imprisonment, and had about two months more to spend in jail. Governor Larrabee was induced to suspend the rest of the penalty, and the papers reaching here yesterday, he walked forth into the pure air again, and was allowed to return to the bosom of his family. One of the conditions of his release was that he make an agreement not to engage in saloon business, and not to be a frequenter of such places. He signed this gladly, and regained his desired freedom. The prohibitionists declare that this is satisfactory. They do not want to punish, so much as they do to prevent the saloon from being a place where to have all the license possible shown, after a man has really stopped selling.

Music Hall Chorus.
Last evening Mueller's Music hall was crowded with music lovers, and they were well entertained in the programme rendered by Prof. Baeten's pupils. It was a recital in name, but in merit it compared favorably with so-called concerts given by professional companies. Every number was well received and upon none were criticisms needed.
The programme consisted of the following selections by the Stryke-on-blues-just club: Miss Pearl Chamberlain in piano numbers and Mr. Herbert Rogers, who is rapidly developing into a full fledged artist on the violin. These recitals are doing much for Council Bluffs in many ways and the music lovers of the city should note their recurrence.
